SLaTE Workshop on Speech and Language Technology in Education
ISCA Tutorial and Research Workshop
Wroxall Abbey Estate, Wroxall, Warwickshire, UK
3rd – 5th September, 2009

SLaTE
SLaTE is the ISCA (International Speech Communication Association) Special Interest Group on Speech and Language Technology in Education. It promotes interest in the use of speech and natural language processing for education, providing members of ISCA with a forum to exchange news of recent research developments and other matters of interest in Speech and Language Technology in Education.

Workshops
SLaTE 2009 is the second workshop organized by the SLaTE special interest group. It will take place immediately before Interspeech 2009, which takes place between 6th and 10th September 2009 in Brighton, UK. SLaTE 2009 follows SLaTE 2007, held in Farmington, Pennsylvania, USA, and its origins can be traced back to the STiLL meeting organized by KTH in Marholmen, Sweden in 1998.

Further details, including a call for papers and registration information, will be posted on this site closer to the date of the meeting.

Workshop Themes
The workshop will focus on research issues, applications, development tools and collaboration. It will address all topics which concern speech and language technology for education. Papers will discuss theories, applications, evaluation, limitations, persistent difficulties, general research tools and techniques. Papers that critically evaluate approaches or processing strategies will be especially welcome, as will prototype demonstrations of real-world applications.

Venue
Situated in 27 acres of open parkland, Wroxall Abbey Estate occupies a unique setting amidst the peace and tranquillity of the Warwickshire countryside. Once the country seat of Sir Christopher Wren, Wroxall boasts a magnificent collection of listed buildings and private grounds, which make it an idyllic venue for the workshop. Wroxall is situated just 10 miles from Birmingham International Airport, 13 miles from Stratford-upon-Avon and 6 miles from Warwick.
