

TECH TALK

TUESDAY, SEPT. 19, 5:30-6:30 PM

CARNEGIE MELLON UNIVERSITY

GATES 4405

dinner
provided

meet the team

Yelp engineer Fred H talks about “Weathering a DDoS Attack at Yelp.”

In a DDoS attack, hackers enlist large numbers of machines -- often a botnet -- to flood a website with enough traffic to take it down. In this talk, we'll describe Yelp's experience withstanding a major DDoS attack. We'll cover how DDoS works, what it was like for Yelp engineers, and what we learned about incident response.

read more about our engineering engineeringblog.yelp.com
check out our dataset yelp.com/dataset

@yelpengineering