Assignment 1. Reflection and Research Paper: Due in class April 1st

What Happened to Women in Computer Science?

Do a little research on this question; explore the data, history, and the various arguments for the decline of women's participation in computer science that seems to have started in the late 1980's. You should also include your own viewpoint and a discussion of how images (i.e. representation of the field and representation of the people in computing) might have contributed.

The chart below provides a little data up to 2010.
