

Frame 1:

inTune is a music player designed for elders that enhances connections with friends and family through sharing of music with personalized cards.

Frame 2:

Lucille is back from volunteering at the local community center.

Frame 3:

Before heading to her apartment, she checks for mail.

[Lucille pulls out a Time magazine, and then pulls a postcard]

Frame 4:

“Oh, look. I got a postcard!”

[Lucille looking at front of card]

Frame 5:

“Oh, it’s a musical postcard from Henry – that sly fox.”

[Lucille looks at the back of the card]

Frame 6:

Nothing

Frame 7:

“I can’t wait to hear what Henry has sent me...I wonder what it is?”

Frame 8:

Lucille opens her inTune player and slips Henry’s postcard into the display holder.

Frame 9:

Nothing.

Frame 10:

Nothing

Frame 11:

[...And the music starts.]

<insert frame: Lucille picking up speaker next to the player>

Frame 13-15

“I’m in the mood for some tea”

Lucille takes the speaker with her as she walks to the kitchen to make herself tea.

Frame 16:

Lucille heads back to her favorite armchair to flip through the new issue of Time while listening to the musical message that Henry sent.

Frame 17-18:

She sets the speakers next to her, and sits down in her comfy chair.

Frame 19:

As Lucille listens, she's reminded of a concert she attended with her friend Anne a few weeks back. <do we insert backstory here?>

Frame 20:

She takes out her pen, grabs a postcard, and jots down a note to Anne.

"Dear Anne, Thought of you when I heard this. Hope you like it. Love, Lucille" inTune provides a sticker that Lucille puts onto her card. She decides that she'll give the card to Anne tomorrow when she sees her at the _____.

Frame 21:

Frame 22:

Tomorrow ...

Frame 23:

Anne waits for Lucille to join her for their walk in the park.

Frame 24:

"Hi, Anne"

"Hi, Lucille"

Frame 25:

"How are you doing?"

"Great – it's good to see you! How about you?"

Frame 26:

"I've had such a busy week. I've got so much to tell you. Oh – before I forget, remember the song that got all of us doing the ____ dance at our reunion last year? I heard this rendition of it...I think you'll love it..."

Frame 30-31:

"Why thanks – I'll listen to it when I get home. So tell me about your week?..."
