

Deep Tech VC 101 Bootcamp (Summer 2025)

Program Overview

Intensive 2-day bootcamp facilitated by deep tech VCs who will teach the history, nuances, and motivations behind deep tech venture capital. You will learn from lectures, participate in interactive workshops to develop basic core VC competencies, and mingle with peers and deep tech VCs to build your own deep tech network.

Bootcamp Details

- Dates: July 11 - 12, 2025 (Friday and Saturday)
- Duration: 2 Days
- Location: Carnegie Mellon University Campus
- Target Audience: Grad students, postdocs, faculty & staff, senior-level undergrads, and alum from STEM disciplines who are entrepreneurial or interested in venture capital as a profession.

What You'll Learn

- Understanding VC as an asset class and the math that motivates VC investments
- Differentiating between “Deep Tech” vs “Traditional” VC
- Exploring how deep tech startup challenges are key opportunities for deep tech VCs
- Deep dive into how to do deep tech deal sourcing, diligence, and deal structuring
- Navigating complexities of value-added deep tech portfolio management and liquidity planning
- Examining trends and the future of deep tech VC

Applications

This program is capped at 10 participants

Application: <https://forms.gle/y1wQzn3QyoZTpbtB8>

Application Deadline: July 3, 2025